

SOCIETY WOULD CUT HIS WIFE

Pittsburg Smart Set Revolt Over Mrs. Thaw.

SHE JOINS THE CHURCH

Efforts of Rich Mother-in-Law to Introduce Her Causes Storm.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—Society is being organized into a revolt against the leadership of Mrs. William Thaw, because she proposes holding a reception this winter in honor of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Evelyn Nesbit-Thaw.

It is whispered about at the various teas that scores of dames, with the smokiest hind of blood in their veins, have decided to remain away from the reception and ignore the invitation.

Will Make Debut.

But Mrs. Thaw is not a woman to lay aside any pet plan, and there is going to be a reception, and her daughter-in-law will make her debut.

Since retiring from the strenuous life in New York, Mrs. Harry Thaw, former chorus girl and artist's model, has become a devoted member of the Third Presbyterian Church, this city.

The first time the younger Mrs. Thaw attended church, and entered the family pew following her mother-in-law, services were suspended for the time being, so far as the congregation was concerned, and all eyes were riveted on the beautiful Evelyn. She bowed her head devoutly on her hymn book during prayers, as if she had never known the lighter side of life in the metropolis.

But, in spite of the fact that Mrs. William Thaw has taken the social education of her daughter-in-law in hand personally, carping critics are opposed to nodding their plumed heads at the girl who had forced herself upward to a social scale equal to the best families at Pittsburg.

Arouses a Storm.

At a recent afternoon gathering of a number of well-known Pittsburg women, one guest declared that Mrs. Harry Thaw should not be tolerated among the exclusive set, and she urged everyone to remain away from the function. A religious person quoted the parable of the rich man who invited the wedding guests who had all too busy to attend, and finally he sent out into the highways and hedges and gathered in the halt and the lame and the blind, and hinted that Mrs. Thaw would be just the kind of a woman to take the hint from the parable.

Another suggested that Mrs. Thaw might send out the invitations and not make it clear that she intended introducing her daughter-in-law into society, and thus many would be forced to meet her. Whatever Mrs. Thaw undertakes in a social way, her intentions will be looked on with suspicion.

Mrs. Thaw is building a new home on the Boulevard, which is to be the future home of Harry Thaw and his wife.

WORSHIPING BRIDE: HUSBAND A SUICIDE

SOUTH NORWALK, Conn., Oct. 9.—Worshipping his pretty wife of two weeks until he thought she was akin to the angels and far too good for him, Frank G. Lyett sat down on the floor of his bedroom and sent four bullets into his head. There is little chance of his recovery.

A fortnight ago Lyett and Miss Mabel Keeler went to Port Chester and were married. They have since been living at the home of the bride, in South Norwalk. Lyett was twenty-five and his bride was but twenty. The bridegroom never showed any signs of insanity, but since his marriage he has frequently told his friends what an angel his wife was and how she was too pretty for him.

It is thought that this idea worked itself up into a delusion.

FOUND FAULT WITH "BLACK BEE" HONEY

Woman Thought Color Determined Yellow Hue.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 9.—"Say mister, I don't want you to send me any more honey from those black bees," remarked a woman to Adolph Moll, head of a big grocery firm.

"You don't want what?"

"I said I don't want any more black bees' honey. My children won't eat it."

"My dear woman, has anybody been selling you anything of that sort?"

"Yes. The last batch I got was black, and that clerk over there told me it was because the bees which made it were black. I want yellow bees' honey hereafter."

Mr. Moll walked over to the clerk the woman had pointed out and asked for an explanation.

"Gee, I thought that was what made the honey black," was his only remark, when the matter had been properly and pointedly explained to him.

The customer received a package that evening containing enough of the golden comb to make up for all complaints, and it was labeled "yellow bees' honey."

The life of the clerk has since been made miserable, however, and the nickname "Yellow Bee" will cling to him for a good many years.

LOVE-SICK VETERAN TRIES SUICIDE CURE

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 9.—Disappointment in a love affair at the age of sixty-three is said to have had such a bitter sting for Charles Fetter, a civil war veteran, of Middletown, that he attempted to blow his brains out with a revolver last night.

The shooting occurred at the house of Mrs. Palmer, Middletown, where the rejection of his suit occurred. Two bullets took effect and Fetter is now in a critical condition.

FINLAND, ARMED, MAY GO TO WAR

Government at St. Petersburg Uneasy.

PLOTTERS ESCAPE CAPTURE

Helsingfors Wants 20,000 More Troops, With Artillery, But Russia Fears to Send Them.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 9.—Advices received from Helsingfors by the government have aroused fresh fears as to the continuance of peace and order in Finland.

Evidence is accumulating daily which shows that a widespread fear is being hatched for an uprising in Finland. While the threads of this plot have been picked up here, the political detective force in Finland has been unable to locate the principal sources from which the movement is being directed.

Repeated discovery of small quantities of arms and ammunition have been made, but the entire lot of arms which has been seized thus far is very small in proportion to the entire quantity of war stores which it is known revolutionists have secretly imported into the country.

Urgent representations are being made to the government from Helsingfors, asking that at least 20,000 more troops, with artillery, shall be sent to Finland. The government, however, hesitates to take this step, lest it should instantly start a revolution.

City Would Give Togo Time of His Whole Life

Washington Eager to Entertain Real Hero and Equipped With Experience to Extend Him Whooping Welcome to America.

They say Admiral Togo, wreathed with glory and victory, is coming to Washington.

"If he should," said the old citizen, "there would be something doing. It has been some time since we have had a chance to welcome a real hero here in the nation's Capital and we are in fine fettle to show the world just how the thing should be done. When Washington really makes up her mind, there isn't a city in the country that can be more winsomely and naively foolish and absurd—if I do say it myself."

Washington Excels.

"We excel in the crowning essential of being able to take ourselves with overwhelming seriousness. Perhaps, we have to yield the palm to New York, wherein the good New Yorker thinks the sun rises and sets, but no other town in all the States is in the race. If we once had Togo in our grasp we would show him the time of his life if we had to break every bone in his body."

"Everything would be in order. The list of the committee of arrangements, if a trifle conducive to pleasure, reminiscence of ante-bellum grandeur, would yet resound with sonorous names. The enterprising gentlemen whose patriotism takes the form of erecting grandstands along the Avenue, would perpetrate some more of their artistic triumphs, young America would lay in a new supply of cheers and enthusiasm, fair America refurbish her store of frills and furbelows, and plain America replenish his stock of what somebody has called 'old vatted oblivion.'

Let Him Come.

"By all means let us have Togo here. Some carping critics suggest that the program of entertainment we will provide may be overdone, in some particulars, but it is an immortal cliché that the plain people will have a good time. That is what crowned heads, princes, potentates, and heroes are provided for anyhow."

"Let him come on—and bring a friend."

WILL GIVE PERFIDIOUS MAN'S COIN TO CHARITY

CHICAGO, Oct. 9.—Miss Freda Albright, of Crown Point, wants $10,000 for breach of promise from Thomas C. Dougal, of Chicago, general manager of the American Index Company. She says:

"I hope nobody will think I am actuated by mercenary motives. If I collect the $10,000 I will give it to charity." Where Dougal made a tactical error, according to the plaintiff, was in overlooking a prior claim to his affections, represented by a large diamond ring on the third finger of "said plaintiff's" hand, when he married Miss Margaret Kerr, of Chicago, on March 1.

Two months and a half before that Miss Albright thought she was to be Mrs. Dougal.

MAY RUN DOWN TO ROME

German Emperor Expected There for Conference With Vatican Over its Proposed Participation.

ROME, Oct. 9.—The report is current here that Kaiser Wilhelm will shortly pay a flying visit to the Pope for the purpose of conferring with the Pontiff in regard to the suggestion made by the latter that the Vatican shall be represented at the coming peace conference to be held at The Hague on the suggestion of the Czar.

The Kaiser has undertaken to support the demands made by the Vatican for the representation. His visit here will be for the purpose of talking the matter over with the Pope.

Italy, it is reported, will not renew the objection she made at first to the presence of a papal delegate at the congress. If this effort to secure representation in the congress for the Vatican is successful, the Pope is ready to concede extensive privileges in the shape of a protectorate over the Eastern Catholic Mission as compensation for Germany's display of good will.
